cryotherapy for warts and verrucae

One of the most effective ways to cure your warts and verrucae, research shows this to be the choice of the experts, we don't use small aerosol cans of freezing agents, we use the works, liquid Nitrogen freezes the skin down to -195 degrees triggering the bodies immune system. Your Podiatrist will discuss the process in detail with you and help decide if this is the right one for you. (Alternative treatments are available at our larger branches)

surgical needling for warts and verrucae

Also known as needling, this innovative and effective treatment is ideal for stubborn and long standing warts and verrucae. It involves using needles to disrupt the skin cells that carry the wart virus allowing the bodies immune system to attack the lesion directly, but don't worry it is all done with a local anaesthetic so unlike cryotherapy it is virtually pain free. This pioneering approach to treating warts and verrucae is highly effective and often requires just one treatment which makes it an ideal choice for people looking for fast effective resolution of lesions at a reasonable price.

Pain free removal of the nail or corners of the nail plate with chemical avulsion of the nail matrix (where the nail grows from) to provide a permanent solution to those annoying ingrown toenails. The procedure is carried out under local anesthetic, which involves a small injection into your toe, although pain is subjective, most of our patients find the injection to be virtually pain free. The cost includes a redressing pack and your first re-dressing appointment following surgery.

biomechanical assessment

An assessment of the mechanics of the lower limb and the forces exerted by muscles and gravity on the skeletal structure. This allows our Podiatrists to look at the whole body in terms of posture and movement so as to determine the underlying cause of your symptoms. At footrescue™ we believe there is no substitute for experience when it comes to offering patients the very best in biomechanical assessments. We are able to add to that experience with the reassurance of accurate foot measurements using our advanced 3 dimensional foot scanner to ensure you get the best possible orthotics for your condition

LCN Pedique (Nail replacement system)

LCN Wilde-Pedique Plus is a UV gel specifically for toe nails, developed with the help of Podiatrists. LCN Wilde-Pedique Plus is a gel system designed specifically for toenails. It is an extremely elastic UV gel, which adapts to the movements of the toe. It's unique adhesive properties mean that good results can even be achieved where there is little remaining nail plate or the toenail is deformed. It has anti-fungal properties, the "Plus" is the anti-mycotic agent Olamine Piroctone to protect against fungal infection. LCN Wilde-Pedique Plus is effective on scaly nail surfaces, for correcting ridges and deformities, for hiding discolouration and for the sport enthusiast as a way to protect toenails.
